RESPONSE

Dear Sir:

This response is being filed in reply to the official action mailed June 15, 2007. In that action, the Examiner requires an election of species, under 35 U.S.C. § 121, between one of the following alleged patentably distinct species of the invention:

- I. The synchronized switching element of FIG. 2; or
- II. The dog clutch engagement without a synchronization element of FIG. 3.

Reconsideration of this requirement for election of species is respectfully requested in view of the following remarks.

The Applicant believes that the present invention contains various embodiments of a single inventive concept. Both species contain the features presently recited in claim 13 which is currently generic to both of the species. Moreover, the Applicant believes that claim 13 is allowable and consequently both species of the invention should be prosecuted in one and the same application for efficiency reasons. It is respectfully submitted that all of the species of the invention represent similar ways of obtaining the same desired results disclosed within this application.

Notwithstanding the above, in order to fulfill the Examiner's request, the Applicant provisionally elects, with traverse, to prosecute the species of the claimed invention shown in Figure 2 of the drawings. The Applicant also provisionally elects, with traverse, claims 13-19, 22 and 23 which are readable on the elected species to be prosecuted on the merits.

The Applicant does not waive any rights with respect to the non-elected species and does not intend to abandon that subject matter. If the Examiner makes the election requirement final, the Applicant respectfully requests that the non-elected species be withdrawn from further consideration but remain in this application subject to reinstatement, in the event that a generic claim is allowed, or for possible filing of a divisional application(s).

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully submitted that the outstanding election of species requirement should be withdrawn and examination of all claims pending in this application, on the merits, is respectfully requested at the present time.

In the event that there are any fee deficiencies or additional fees are payable, please charge the same or credit any overpayment to our Deposit Account (Account No. 04-0213).

Respectfully submitted,
